

QCPLineEnding::setWidth

graph LR; A[QCPLineEnding::setWidth] --> B[QCPLineEnding::width]
